ABOUT

I am a UI/UX Designer and Front-End Developer. After earning a degree in graphic design, I have designed ads for a magazine publisher, managed at a 5-star resort balancing people and business interests, and freelanced as a real estate photographer shooting and listing properties. My work experience allows me to bring a greater depth of knowledge to a product development team. By understanding the user -- I am ready to help your team turn the complex into simple, beautiful user experiences.
